P. O. Box 14020
St. Louis, Missouri 63178

Dear Mr. Newman:

A friend of mine advised me that you were the owner of a $1 Clark, Grubar and Company note. If somewhere down the line, you offer the note for sale or trade, I would appreciate hearing from you.

The $1 note is the only item missing in my Clark Grubar collection of both the coins and currency, and have searched some time without success.

I have a few very rare Western notes that I plan to trade off, any chance on the above? I'll send a list and photographs on what I have anyway, if you want.

Cordially,

Dear Mr. Bowman:

I certainly would be delighted to have a list of the Western items which you plan to dispose of. I am particularly interested in Western items for a permanent museum exhibit as part of the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial which is now under construction in St. Louis.

As far as the Clark, Gruber $1 note is concerned, this, of course, is part of my collection and I only wish I had a duplicate to exchange with you.

Please let me hear from you.

Mr. Eric R. Newman

St. Louis 5, Missouri

Dear Mr. Newman:

Thanks kindly for your promptly reply of November 9, and as yet I haven't decided exactly which notes I will dispose of. Would much prefer to trade, and thought maybe I might tempt you out of letting go of your $1 Clark Gruber note, with something you might feel to be of more value to your collection. I can understand your position, as I wouldn't want to part with my $5 Clark Gruber note that goes with the rest of the Clark Gruber collection.

I'm enclosing a photo of an extremely rare Western note, that I'm considering trading, and thought you might be interested in seeing same. As you probably know, Idaho City is an almost extinct early Western city, that used to be a town of 40,000 or more and the Capital of Idaho. This same First National Bank of Idaho is actually still in existence in Boise. The note is very colorful, and remarkably well preserved.

Are you interested in any early Colorado mining stock certificates? Enclosed is one for your inspection. I would sell what I have for $15.00 each straight through - the enclosed you may keep with my compliments. I'll try and make up a list of the Western items I have to sell, in the near future.

Cordially,

Dear Mr. Bowman:

Thank you, so much, for the picture of the Idaho piece. I would be very much interested in acquiring it in trade for something you wanted and which I might have available. Naturally, I would be interested in the other items you are going to list. What I do not know is what other interests you might have so that I can make suggestions as to what might be a mutually advantageous exchange.

Thank you for the stock certificate, if you intended for me to keep it, but if, perchance, you can sell them at $15 each, I would hesitate to retain it. This is out of my field.

I look forward to hearing from you.

In answer to your letter of November 23, yes, I intend for you to keep the stock certificate - no charge.

Most of my interests in collecting recently has been the early Pioneer Mormon Currency. Do you have anything in this line you'd care to trade? - or sell.

Will be happy to hear from you further.

Please pardon my belated answer to your letter of December 2, but I've just been snowed with year end work, and just now starting to get uncovered.

Concerning your letter of December 2, I'll appreciate your itemizing the Edison's Storehouse script you have duplicates of together with condition and what you value it at, also the condition and your valuation on the $20 Kirtland note.

I recently picked up an old Adams & Company, San Francisco, 1854. original signed certificate of deposit, beautifully engraved. Price $20.

I'll look forward to hearing from you further, and best wishes for the new year.

Dear Mr. Newnam:

Regarding a recent note you wrote me, listing a few of the duplicate Mormon notes you have, I still haven't decided which items I'm going to dispose of, as I've been so hurried with my regular work.

I recently bought an extended collection of coin books along with some other western items, and if you're interested, I'll also make a list of the books that I won't keep for my library, that might be of interest to you. In addition to the currency items, - let me know.

Note your picture in the Coin World, congratulations, and hope everything goes well with you - had hoped to get back to the convention, but just can't make it. Really! May get into St. Louis end of these days, though.

Mr. Eric P. Newman
6450 Cecile Ave.
St. Louis, Missouri

Dear Mr. Newman:

Some time ago, you may recall, we had some correspondence regarding early Western Obsolete notes, as I was trying, and still working on expanding my collection of the early Mormon notes, as well as Colorado.

During my visit to Chacago last summer at the A.N.A. convention, I tried to meet you, as I felt we would have quite a bit in common in regard to the Obsolete notes. Also, Kenneth Marckhoff wanted me to look and go over his brother Fred's collection of Obsoletes. I was not in a cash position to try to make an offer on the whole collection, and thought someone such as yourself, might go in with me on a joint offer. As I never did locate you, or anyone that might want to go in on a deal together, I came on home, and made his attorney a proposition on part of them - but they wanted to sell it as a unit.

I'd heard that you had possibly purchased the collection, and knew you'd be the logical buyer probably. I knew Fred thought quite a bit of you, so I'm sure the collection will be in good hands. I know you don't care to sell notes from your collection, and I'm the same way, but there we're quite a few Mormon items that I don't have in my collection that Fred had, and thought possibly you might be looking for a good home for some of these that might be duplicates of what you have.

I'll appreciate hearing from you concerning the above, and the best of luck with your new acquired collection.

Dear Mr. Bowman:

I did acquire the Marckhoff collection. A great bulk of the items I already have and after I take the items which I need for my collection I plan to sell the balance as a whole at my cost. It is not practical to sell separately any particular section, or notes.

I will miss Fred, as our research relationship was a very fine one.

I look forward to many pleasant months in merging the collection into mine although I resent having to do it in a safe deposit vault.

My kindest regards.

Dear Mr. Newman:

I've been giving some thought in regard to your letter of February 7, concerning the Marckhoff collection.

I can understand your desire to sell the balance of the collection as a whole, and I think probably I could work out something, when the time comes that you desire to make this disposition. I'm sure that a large quantity of these notes would fit into my collection, as I inspected the collection before it was sold, and know most of its contents.

Another thing I had in mind is, I have quite an extended collection of Numismatic books that I would consider trading, and which might be of interest and an advantage to you. I'll be glad to make up a list of them for you, and you could see if they would fit into your needs.

Of course I'm always probing to dig up new material for my collection, and will look forward to hearing from you concerning the above.

Dear Mr. Newman;

Sometime ago I corresponded with you concerning the Marckhoff collection you purchased. I'm still adding to my collection of the early Mormon obsolete notes, and wondered if you'd gotten to the point where you would want to dispose of the items you did not need for your collection. I also suggested, if you'd rather trade, rather than sell the extras, I have quite an extensive book collection I'd trade. I realize you probably have most of these that I have, but I'm enclosing the list, in the event you'd consider trading the notes on the books. Most of the books are in very good condition.

I plan to attend the ANA convention in San Diego, and upon hearing from you, would be glad to make arrangements for a little meeting there.

Congratulations on your many awards for your writings - have been doing a little myself, but just don't have the time to do the extended research necessary. Enclosed is a little article I wrote on Colorado First Charter Nationals, that I thought might be of interest to you.

Best regards, and will look forward to hearing from you.

Dear Mr. Bowman:

Thank you, very much, for sending your interesting publication on Colorado National Bank Notes. You must have a very lovely collection and it would be a pleasure to examine it. Naturally, you are more than welcome to see anything we have in St. Louis.

I have no present plans to attend the ANA convention, in San Diego, and am sorry the meeting you suggested cannot be arranged.

The few Mormon duplicates which I have are storehouse pieces which I am sure you already have.

As to your library, you have some very nice items and there are probably a number of them I do not have. It so happens I collect every edition of books relating to American coins. Would you be nice enough to tell me the dates or edition of the following books which you listed: 13, 14, 18, 22, 56 and 63.

Exactly what do you collect, so I can see if I can find something for you.

If, perhaps, you would sell some of the books you have, I will look forward to purchasing them, or if you want to sell your library intact I can buy it and sell to other collectors the books I already have.

It is always pleasant to hear from you.

Dear Mr. Newman:

Upon return from my trip to San Diego, I find your letter of August 16 - and concerning your inquiry on the books, please be advised as follows: #13 - Henry Holt & Co - 1874 - N. Y. ; #14 - No date A. M. Smith publisher ; #18 - 2nd Edition - 1860 including plate ; #22 1913, copyright 1912 ; #56 1861 ; #63 Banking house and counting room edition (1870) ; #48 Early Coins of America Crosby original edition and complete.

Most of my collecting is now specialized in Western National Bank notes - particularly Colorado First and Second Charter. Although have quite an extensive collection of Mormon obsoletes, need the $2.00 and $3.00 Kirtland resigned notes (by Brigham Young), Do you have any Territory National bank notes you could trade or sell? Also trying to expand my collection of Clark Gruber items, searching for odd trial strikes - bills of lading for gold shipments, checks, etc. Are you ready to turn loose of your $1 Clark Gruber note yet?

I would like to trade the books as a lot, and value them around $1,400. Of course to value the books more accurately, one would have to take into consideration the condition of each. - In general, most of the books are above average condition, and some of the rare ones in exceptionally fine condition.

Thanks again for your letter and if you think of any trades you feel would be of interest to me, I'll appreciate hearing from you.

Dear Mr. Bowman:

I recently acquired a Utah item which you may not have. It is the $1 California and Salt Lake Mail Line. It is unsigned and in very fine condition. A photocopy is enclosed. If you do not have it I am sure you will be pleased to obtain it.

My thought is that I could exchange it for some of the books on your list, namely, Nos. 1, 24, 33, 42, 44, 55 and 63 plus the right to exchange my duplicate third edition of Dickeson for your 1860 edition. This is on the basis that your books are in nice condition and in original bindings.

I look forward to hearing from you as I have been trying to find something you needed.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Eric:

Thanks for your letter of October 11. I've decided to go ahead and accept your offer, as the California Salt Lake note would make a nice addition to my collection of Mormon Currency. As an average the books are in nice condition, two of them being almost unused, so have decided to send them along to you under separate cover. The book, Copper issues of the U.S. Mint, is a paper pamphlet, and the cover somewhat damaged, and for this rare of book, should probably be put into a binding, but I've hesitated to do this, as most collectors want them in their original state.

If the books meet with your approval, will look forward to receiving the $1 note.

Somewhere down the line, I may have some items, that you might want for your collection - let me know of anything special you might be looking for - don't forget me if you decide to turn loose of the $1 Clark Gruber note you have.

Best regards

Cordially

Dear Mr. Bowman:

Two packages of books arrived but they did not include your Dickeson. Could that have been mailed separately or was that omitted by inadvertence?

The Hesth, as you may know, is missing two plates listed in the index. This disappointed me but I feel that they were not removed, that they may never have been put in.

I did make one error in that I asked you to send me Mathews, Coinage of the World, which is in lovely condition. I already had it under the name Scott. Would you care if I sent it back to you with my Dickeson and took item 14 instead?

It will be the first of next week before I can get to the bank vault to get the bill. I am sure you will get a tremendous kick out of it.

Incidentally, there is a book written by Chorpennning, who had the mail route, and you may be able to find this book in a library.

Kindest regards.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Eric:

Your letter of October 24 was received today - and refering back to your letter of October 11, I probably misinterpreted your statement "plus the right to exchange my duplicate third edition of Dickeson for your 1860 edition". I didn't realize you wanted me to send this book along with the others as I thought you implied you hadn't decided on this.

Under separate cover, I'm sēding you my Dickeson 1860 edition, that is in exceptionally nice shape for this old of book, and am also sending you the item 14, U.S. Mint and Coins, by A.M. Smith - I believe to be original binding, but somewhat worn, and whatever exchange you want to work out would be fine with me.

Do you still have any of the early Mormon script notes you offered me for trade some time ago? Or if you figure out any other trades you would like to offer on any of the remaining books I have, would be glad to hear from you.

Hope things are going well for you, and am looking forward to receiving the Utah bill.

Dear Dick:

I am enclosing herewith the $1 California & Salt Lake Mail Line note and hope that you enjoy it. It is a real rarity and fascinating piece of Western material.

I am also sending under separate cover my third edition of Dickeson and the Mathews, about which I wrote. Your books will be along in due course but I did not want you to wait any longer for the item you wanted.

I still must have whatever I had before of Mormon scrip.

Kindest regards.
